The fishing sch. Monticello, Capt. Clarence Davis, was drawn ashore on Smutty Nose rocks, Monhegan, during a heavy squall on Monday. Had not the fishing sch. Two Forty of Boston been near at hand, the result would have probably been serious, but members of the crew of the latter vessel, comprising William Blatchford, William Fitzgerald, Isaac Brown, Arthur Doan and Joseph Woodbury, immediately went to the assistance of the Monticello and were successful in rescuing Capt. Davis and his men and were also instrumental in saving the latter's craft.
